I've recently been swamped with letters and calls concerning the Harvey creators of past and present. There appears to be a surging interest in the artists, writers and, in fact, history of this firm. To my surprise, three different writers have queried me this past month about doing a major book describing the history of Harvey.

I should also add that there is an excellent newsletter devoted to the past and present doings of this firm, called "The Harveyville Fun Times," edited and published by Mark Arnold. Anyone interested in receiving this excellent publication should write to Mark Arnold, at 1464 La Playa #105, San Francisco, California 94122. It's a terrific package!

We've also been informed of a major auction of Harvey artwork that's to be held this fall by Christie's, in New York City. Those interested in obtaining some of that precious material ought to contact Christie's directly.

In the mail I mentioned before, several of you pointed out that though I've written so much about the artists who have given Harvey its distinct look, I've written too little about the writers. Well, perhaps I have, and I'd like to start rectifying that right now.

Without a doubt, the man who has writen more stories for Harvey than any two or three others combined is Ralph Newman. (Actually, he may have written more comic stories than any person who ever worked in the field!) But not only did Ralph write more than anyone else, he also wrote with a rare, brash sense of humor, a deep regard for his readers and, indeed, for those characters he wrote about. There is a consistent high quality to Ralph's work and one that featured wonderful visuals and great sweeping action. He wrote with an equal verve for Casper, Richie, Dot, Lotta, Hot Stuff and Stumbo—and, I'm sure, others that I've forgotten.

I believe he created the Cadbury character in Richie Rich—certainly his name—did most of the Reggie Van Dough stories, all of the Aunt Noovo ones and, I would bet, created almost every one of Dot's incredible array of uncles and aunts.

Ralph Newman is a name not too many of you ever heard before, but you have laughed at and enjoyed his work for more than 20 years. He deserves the gratitude and acclaim of us all. He is a giant in a field that has too few of them.

I'll end things this month by pointing out just a few of our new features. Harvey's TROLL PATROL, presently on newsstands, should not be missed. It's fun, unusual and exciting. Those popular trolls like you've never seen them before. And look for STUNT DAWGS—a fantastic and irreverent look at Hollywood and its stuntmen—and ULTRAMAN, the new age superhero from a distant world. Both STUNT DAWGS and ULTRAMAN can also be seen on your local TV.

A happy Harvey month to you all and see you next time.

CLASS NOTES

Those letters of yours have started coming in, and they're coming in by the mailbag full. Thanks for responding as you have to the SAVED BY THE BELL comic books—it's even bigger than we expected.

The new season for SAVED BY THE BELL continues to show that it's the favorite show of America's teenagers, as well as Saturday morning's top rated series. With all that in mind, we wondered which of the great characters of the series is our readers personal favorite? Well, let's take a look at that overloaded mailbag...

Dear Class Notes:
I thought your comic was great. My favorite character is Zack. I think he's a pretty funny guy and awfully sneaky.
Your favorite fan—Garry Stevens, Jr.
Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Class Notes:
My favorite one is Zack. The reason I like him is because he is the cutest one. I wish that I could be on the show with him.—Jaydi Eck,
Blue River, Oregon.

Hi, Saved By the Bell:
My friends think I'm crazy, but Screech is my favorite in the comic book and on the TV show. He's crazy and funny, and I think a lot smarter than people think.—Tori Parker,
Los Angeles, California.

Dear Class Notes:
My name is Cassandra Dicesare. SAVED BY THE BELL is my favorite show in the world. You guys are so funny, especially Screech. He is the funniest person in the show.—Cassandra Dicesare,
Rochester, New York.
< Hey, Cassandra, do you realize that the writer for the SAVED BY THE BELL comic book is Angelo DECESARE? Any relation?—Ed. >

Dear Class Notes:
Of course, Slater is the best one of all the characters. What a body! What a face! What a hunk!—Ellen O'Hara,
St. Louis, Mo.

Dear Class Notes:
Lisa is my favorite. I think she's the prettiest one of the girls and the one I'd love to meet. I even have had dreams of her.—Burt Cowan,
Chicago, Ill.

Dear SAVED BY THE BELL-ers:
I love your comic book because it's just like the show. Keep it up! My favorite story was "A Pregnant Idea," because it was so funny and it was about Jessie, my favorite character. I think I'm like her in so many ways, and sometimes those ways get on my mother's nerves. But I don't care. There are too many issues in this world that are important. Please have more and more of Jessie.—Tina Torres,
Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Class Notes:
Kelly is my favorite and I try hard to be like her.She is so classy and so pretty.—Ashley Rosen,
Greensboro, North Carolina.

Now how's that for a sampling? But what do the rest of you think? Want to tell us who your favorite is and why you feel that way about him or her?

However, one thing is easy to see. They're ALL your favorites in one way or another. Even Travis Morrison, from Newark, Ohio, wrote to say: "I wish I had a principal like Mr. Belding." Guess you can't beat that.

So don't forget to write us. Send those letters to:
